A Note from author, DORI HILLESTAD BUTLER and illustrator, KEVAN ATTEBERRY

Dear Reader,

I'm so excited to introduce you to my Dear Beast series. This series is very near and dear to my heart for several reasons. First, it's about cats and dogs. Second, it was inspired by my grand-kitty. I don't have grandchildren, but I do have a grand-kitty. His name is Simon and he's just like the Simon in the book. Third, it involves letter writing. I don't know about you, but I've always loved writing letters. I've had more than 100 pen pals from 80 different countries throughout my life. I got my first one when I was six years old. Her name was Sheryl and she lived in Australia. She wrote to me about her annoying older siblings, about playing netball, and about being on summer vacation in December, when I was playing in the snow. Simon and Baxter don't live as far from each other as Sheryl and I did, but they have never met each other. And like Sheryl and me, I think they will learn through their correspondence that they have many things in common, but also many things to learn from each other. Enjoy!

Your friend,

Dori

When I got the story for Dear Beast I loved it and was thrilled to create Simon and Baxter and all of the other characters. They became very special to me. ~kevan

SIMON SAYS!

Baxter doesn't listen to Simon. . . . Will you?

Simon the cat thinks he can tell Baxter the dog what to do. Will you listen to what Simon says? Pick someone to be Simon the cat and play a game of Animal Simon Says. Listen closely as “Simon” gives you directions inspired by the book. If “Simon” says to do something, you better act fast! But, if “Simon” does not and you do it anyway, you’re out! Use the ideas below to get you started!

“Simon says . . .”

- Bark like a dog
- Meow like a cat
- Slither like a snail
- Flap your arms like a crow
- Make a fish face
- Swim like a fish
- Wag your tail

DOOGY DICTIONARY BINGO: PART TWO

Baxter has his own doggy lingo!

1. Give every player a blank bingo card.
2. Reproduce and cut out the word pieces.
3. Reproduce and cut out the game pieces.
4. Give each player a set of words to place on their bingo card in any order they choose, and a set of game pieces.
5. Reproduce and cut out a set of word pieces to call out. Place pieces in a bag or basket for drawing and calling out.
6. Call out each word.
7. Players must identify the word on their card and cover the space with a game piece.
8. If a player has all the words covered diagonally, across a row, or vertically in a column, they should call out "Beast!"

UP, DOWN, AND ALL AROUND!

Dogs and cats are great at listening . . . sometimes! Here's a chance for you to practice YOUR skills!

Grab an adult to help you with this game. Choose a space and divide it into two sides. Dedicate one side as “love it” and one side as “don’t love it.” Start by standing in the middle of the space and have an adult shout out the words below. If you love it, run to the “love it” side and sit down. If you don’t love it, run to the “don’t love it” side and sit down. If you can’t decide, sit in the middle! Keep going for each word!

Puppies	Reading
Cats	Writing
Snails	Recess
Chocolate	Apples
Vanilla	Oranges
Hamburgers	Dancing
Hotdogs	Running
Math	Coca-Cola
Science	Pepsi

AUTHOR ACTIVITY

Author Dori Hillestad Butler loves to write. Now you can become an author just like her! She created a writing activity just for YOU!

Do you have a dog, or cat, or fish at home? What about a favorite stuffed animal? Imagine if your pet had a pen pal. Who would that pen pal be? Draw a picture of him or her in this blank space.

Now imagine what your pet would write in a letter to his or her pen pal. Write that letter on these lines.

---

---

---

---

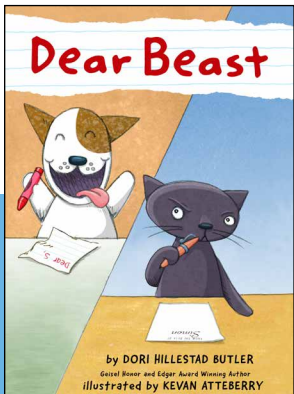

---

Was it easy or hard to write that letter?

Circle one. EASY HARD

Was it fun?

Circle one. YES NO
